WASHINGTON, April 8.—Italy's armed conquest of Albania was formally denounced by the United States today as an "additional threat to the peace of the world."

This government left no doubt of its indignation at the expansion of the Rome-Berlin axis in Europe, the denunciation of Italy's invasion following closely upon condemnation of Germany's "lawlessness" in the seizure of Czechoslovakia.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull branded the Italian invasion as "an additional threat to the peace of the world."

In a brief but pointed denunciation Hull declared:
"Any threat to peace seriously concerns all nations."
The secretary of state's condemnation of Italy was made with the full approval of President Roosevelt. Hull conversed at length on the telephone with the chief executive at Warm Springs before issuing his statement to correspondents.

Hull's statement of condemnation follows:

The forcible and violent invasion of Albania is unquestionably an additional threat to the peace of the world.

"It would be short-sighted not to take notice of the further development."
"Any threat to peace seriously concerns all nations and violates the will of all peoples in the world that the governments shall lead them not toward war but along paths of peace."

"It is scarcely necessary to add that the inevitable effect of this incident, taken with other similar incidents, is further to destroy confidence and to undermine economic stability in every country in the world, thus affecting our own welfare."

Hull pointedly linked the Italian invasion with the German conquest of Czechoslovakia.

OBSERVES

First holiday week-end for traffic through the city with the Perry highway routed through New Castle, as a result of the detour at Portersville, showed a large increase of traffic here.

We have a nice piece of garden ground for free use of some worthy person. It is located downtown at 212 North Mill street.

Yours truly,
SARA DANA DAVIS.

Easter comes the same day this year on both the Julian and Gregorian calendars. Pa. New is told by one of the local clergymen whose church follows the Julian calendar.

Forty-three years ago, said Edmund Whiteman of Phillips street, in a chat with Pa. New yesterday, the ground was covered with snow from the day after Easter, March 30, until the 23rd of April. The weather had been warm until the afternoon of Easter Day, and church goers had even left their coats at home.

One service which the city renders to taxpayers and which is often overlooked, is the matter of keeping the streets clean.

Day, Although Cool(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, April 8.—If the weather man's right, and here's hoping he is, it's going to be a fine Easter day tomorrow for all of Pennsylvania, albeit a little cool in some places.

"Sunday fair with slowly rising temperature" was the way the weather bureau in Philadelphia put it for eastern and central Pennsylvania. It will be just fine for your new Easter outfit, he said, with the temperature in the low 60's.

Fair weather, but a little cool, was what the weatherman foresaw for the western section of the state. For the New Jersey seashore, Easter mecca for thousands in this area, the prediction was "partly cloudy and continued cool."

FORECASTS GOOD WEATHER IN THIS DISTRICT

PITTSBURGH, April 8.—Cool weather is in store for the marchers in the Easter parade tomorrow, W. S. Brotzman, U. S. weather forecaster predicted here today.

"The temperature will drop to around 25 to 30 degrees early Easter Sunday," Brotzman said, "and then should rise rapidly."

He said it would be a bright, sunny day in Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

For Easter ObservanceTomorrow the world celebrates the Miracle of the Resurrection, the Easter.

Wherever the religion of Christ is followed the day will be marked with solemn services, and on every continent and the islands of the seas the Cross will be glorified.

Here in New Castle every church will mark the day. In sermon and in song, with flowers and with music the greatest day in Christendom will be observed, for it is doubtful if a single church, no matter its size, but is building its services tomorrow about the scene of the tomb.

Weather Promising
Good Friday was cold and threatening. Today the weather indications are that Easter will be bright and cheerful. Churches will be filled with worshippers and in the congregations will be seen the human signs of the Easter, new gowns, new hats and flowers.Merchants report a heavy sale of Easter goods.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—An SOS signal from the British freighter Temple Bar was intercepted early today by coast guard radio stations on the Pacific coast.The distress call was broadcast in such haste that the wireless operator evidently was forced to abandon his post before he was able to give the ship's exact location. It said:
"Struck rock—Carrall Islands—sinking fast. SOS—SOS—"

Then the operator "tied" his key so that the instrument sent a continuous buzz for several minutes. Listening operators in coast guard stations said the signal ceased abruptly, indicating that the vessel had gone down.

According to the coast guard station at Bolinas, the Temple Bar was due to arrive at Vancouver, British Columbia, at 6 o'clock tonight.

Says That Fish
Catch Pneumonia(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, April 8.—To the usual fun of fish stories you can add today the one about the fish that caught pneumonia and—if anyone heaves a bait box at your head you can turn to science to prove you're right.

Joe Mellon, senior state fish warden who is supervising the planting of some 700,000 trout in state streams in preparation for the angling season, explained it all.

Precautions had to be taken in shipping the fish from the Huntsdale hatchery, Mellon said, because sudden change into too-cold water will induce pneumonia among the species.

German Troops

LONDON, April 8.—Large bodies of troops, including motorized and armored units, have been observed departing from Berlin, the London Daily Telegraph said today in a dispatch from the German capital.

Other reports stated eight of the 18 German divisions recently concentrated in Bohemia and Moravia have been withdrawn, apparently for use in other areas.

ROME, April 8.—Everything of value was looted in a burst of rioting last night from King Zog's royal palace at Tirana and from the residences of his six sisters, Italian press reports said today.

At one time, said the official news agency, the situation of those barricaded within the Italian legation at the Albanian capital appeared most alarming as armed bands threatened to attack the building.

During the night, Stefani reported, members of the Italian legation staff "rallied friendly elements" in the chaotic city, arrested "bandits," and were able to get the most important public services, including the Tirana radio, cable and telephones operating once more.

The reports added that numerous armed bands of Albanians have now returned to Tirana and have been disarmed.

Italian forces, it was stated, already are arresting those who participated in the riots, including numbers of convicts.

PARIS, April 8.—Corfu, Greek island just south of Albania, strategically located at the entrance to the Adriatic Sea, will be the objective of Premier Benito Mussolini's first move after the conquest of Albania, according to reports in diplomatic circles today.

With French political quarters convinced that Italy's action in Albania is exceeding the status of a local affair, tension increased as expected today against Greece would be taken in Tunis to preserve order during tomorrow's scheduled demonstration of Destourians—Italian autonomists in Tunisia.

The Destourians, it was learned, are renewing their activities to coincide with Italy's triumph in the Balkans.

Reports in Paris indicated that the alleged intention of Il Duce to strike out against Greece would be justified by supposed Greek aid to the Albanians in their resistance to the Italian invaders.

LONDON, April 8.—Heads of the British armed forces and key cabinet members were summoned to an emergency meeting today to consider the European crisis arising from Italy's invasion of Albania.

Authorities said they expected Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain would cut short his Easter vacation in Scotland, where he had hoped to go fishing and hawking back to London. If he returns, he will probably fly to the capital within the next 36 hours.

Plan Counter-Move
Angered by Premier Mussolini's blow at the tiny Adriatic state ruled by King Zog, a blow considered here as a challenge to the Anglo-French-Polish anti-aggression compact prepared for a counter-move.

The chief object of the government was to prevent the Balkan birthplace of the World War of 1914 from re-enacting that grim role. London authorities also were anxious to prevent complete control of the Adriatic sea from passing into the hands of—and thus under the control of—the militant Rome-Berlin axis.

The British government sounded the alarm.

VOLUNTEERS ARE TO LEAVE SPAIN(International News Service)
LONDON, April 8.—Reports from Madrid reaching Lisbon, Portugal, stated 20,000 Italian volunteers were scheduled to leave Spain via Almeria before nightfall, an exchange telegraph dispatch said today.

The report gave no hint as to where the volunteers would be sent, but it was believed possible the troops might be used to reinforce Premier Benito Mussolini's forces in Albania.

The initial move in the Reich's campaign to smash the Anglo-Polish alliance came when Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, in a talk with Polish Ambassador Josef Lipski, indicated:

"The door to friendly relations between Germany and Poland is not yet shut entirely—but it is not wide open, either."

Neutrality Law Dispute
May End In CompromiseBy EDWARD B. LOCKETT

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Compromise today appeared to be the only settlement of Congress' neutrality law dispute that will permit any action on the vital issue of foreign policy at this session.

No single one of the seven measures pending before the Senate foreign relations committee carried sufficient support for approval at this time. A checkup among the 23 committee members revealed none willing to accept another's proposal as drafted. A considerable number said frankly they were undecided about what they want.

Measures Favored
A survey revealed, however, that material committee support could be mustered by a new law providing:

1.—Invocation either by Congress or the President of a mandatory embargo against shipment to belligerents of arms, munitions or implements of war.

2.—Re-enactment of the cash-and-carry provisions of the present law, which apply only to non-military supplies and expire May 1.

Such a law, International News Service learned, would be acceptable to forces seeking a mandatory law, and still keep some of the provisions sought by a vigorous cash-and-carry law contingent.

The permanent enactment of existing law embargoes arms, munitions and implements of war.

BERLIN, April 8.—Strong pressure on Poland to nullify results of Foreign Minister Josef Beck's talks in London was seen as an early measure today after Germany gave her unqualified approval to Italian seizure of Albania.

Queen Of Albania Is
Gravely Ill In Greece(International News Service)
LONDON, April 8.—Queen Geraldine of Albania, the beautiful half-American former countess, who was forced to flee from Tirana yesterday only two days after the birth of her son, is gravely ill in Greece, it was reported today.

Mrs. Destrale Dekna, the American-born grandmother of Queen Geraldine, told the London Daily Express in a telephone interview from Florina, Greece, where the young queen sought refuge:

"Geraldine is very ill. She is so weak she is hardly able to lift her hand . . ."

"Tell the world that King Zog will stay and fight and never give in."

The queen's grandmother told a pathetic story of how Geraldine pleaded to be allowed to remain beside her husband in the face of the Italian military advance.

Geraldine pleaded with Zog to be permitted to stay at his side. Finally, reluctantly and sadly, she agreed to leave. She has been extremely brave, but she has had a dreadful time."

The baby is quite well and healthy. "Geraldine knows that Zog will never give in. She is proud of him and would not have him do anything else."

Kansas City Democrats Are Stunned

Pendergast Is Facing Charges

"Boss" Is Indicted On Alleged Evasion Of Income Tax Payments

LEADER SUFFERS AMAZING BLOW

(International News Service) KANSAS CITY, April 8.—Kansas City's Democratic workers, although still dazed by the indictment of "Boss" T. J. Pendergast on charges of evading federal income tax on $315,000 which he allegedly received in connection with the celebrated 1935 Missouri fire insurance rate compromise, rallied bravely today around their silent leader.

While admitting that the prestige of the sturdy, 66-year-old "maker of senators and governors" had suffered an unprecedented blow, they confidently awaited the outcome of his trial.

R. Emmet O'Malley, former state superintendent of insurance, who was indicted also by the federal grand jury yesterday, on charges of evading tax payments on $62,500 allegedly received by him in the compromise, rushed back to Kansas City last night by plane from Washington, D. C., where he had been visiting his son.

"How can I make a statement now?" he countered reporters' queries. "I know nothing of what has been said. It's a surprise to me."

Pendergast Silent However, this was more than the laconic Pendergast would say. "No comment" was his reply to reporters' questions.

Fulfilling U. S. District Attorney Maurice M. Sullivan's statement, issued in conjunction with news of the indictment, that this was "only the beginning" of the grand jury's work, Pendergast today, foregoing its usual Saturday holiday.

News of the indictment of "T. J." stunned city and county employees. On hearing the first report, they dropped their work and rushed around trying to get confirmation. Their later comments were careful. O'Malley is director of the Kansas City water department, a post he received after Gov. Lloyd C. Stark deposed him as state insurance superintendent. This was the first outright break between the "boss" and the governor Pendergast helped to elect.

"T. J." surrendered at the federal building, shortly after his indictment, made bond of $10,000, was fingerprinted and then released, pending his arraignment, April 24.

The indictments, District Attorney Milligan asserted, "solved the $460,000 'insurance mystery fund'", which the federal grand jury has been probing for weeks, at Milligan's suggestion.

ITALIAN MILITARY MACHINE SMASHES WAY INTO CAPITAL

scale maneuvers rather than accomplishing a real war campaign, the Italians used planes, light artillery, tanks, infantry and motorcycle troops.

General Alfredo Guzzoni was in command with General Mase as his aide. Crack Bersaglieri with the traditional rooster feathers waving from their steel helmets roared into the narrow streets of Tirana on motorcycles, instead of bicycles—their ordinary means of travel.

Hand grenades blasted snipers, and small machine guns were used against "suicide squads" of Albanians who fell back from street to street and then took to the hills to continue their resistance.

Tirana Entered

Rome, April 8.—Tirana, the capital city of tiny Albania, fell today before the advancing Fascist legions of Premier Mussolini, according to Italian advices from the Adriatic battle front.

A dispatch circulated by the official Italian news agency, Stefani, said Italian troops entered Tirana at 9:30 a. m. (3:30 a. m. EST).

A few minutes before the collapse of King Zog's capital was announced by the agency, a dispatch stated that fighting ceased at dawn and the Italian arrival in Tirana was "imminent."

A previous military communique indicated that fierce fighting had progressed through the night and added that a "provisional government" had been formed at Tirana, giving Albania a "regime based on justice under the auspices of imperial Fascist Italy."

(Background note: Italy's invasion of Albania is believed likely to result in complicated diplomatic repercussions. In London and Paris, authorities considered that two treaties protecting King Zog's country from an Italian invasion. The first of these treaties was a 20-year military alliance between the Rome and Tirana governments, concluded in 1927. The second was the Anglo-Italian agreement of 1937, guaranteeing the status quo in the Mediterranean.

Wild Night of Panic

Italian press dispatches and Stefani bulletins indicated that a wild night of panic and chaos preceded the capitulation of Tirana before the Italian juggernaut.

The king was declared to be taking 400,000 francs in gold with him, and was said to be planning to meet his wife, Queen Geraldine, perhaps in Saloniki.

The Albanian regime was declared to be collapsing with Zef Seregi, aide-de-camp of King Zog, giving up his post as minister to Italy.

Ciano to Assume Charge Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister and son-in-law of Premier Benito Mussolini, landed in Tirana at 11 a. m., presumably to take charge in the formation of the new Albanian regime under Italian control. He was said to have flown his own plane over the Adriatic.

Stefani said that King Zog's palace in Tirana, from which Queen Geraldine fled yesterday in an ambulance only two days after giving birth to a son, was sacked by wild, armed convicts.

It was presumed these convicts were prisoners turned loose by the Albanian government yesterday to aid in the fruitless defense of the capital.

The reports here stated the convicts kept Tirana in a state of panic all night long.

Italy's news agency said that after Tirana was occupied many high Albanian personages called at the Italian legation to pay homage to Italy and its Duce.

The dispatches claimed the Italian troops were greeted in Tirana with "great manifestations of joy."

It was added that an entire regiment of crack grenadier infantryman is being landed at Tirana by airplane from Grottaglie.

Italian citizens read newspaper accounts of Tirana's occupation with avid interest, but without outward signs of enthusiasm.

Rome newspapers significantly pointed out to their readers that Albania is a "strategic point" in the Balkans.

The termite, which looks like a white ant, is related to the cricket and cockroach.

Implements of war but may be invoked only by the President. Forces advocating mandatory legislation would at least partially win their fight if an amendment were adopted giving Congress, also, power to call the law into force.

Cash-and-carry exporters naturally want expiring sections of the law re-enacted. The compromise outlined would give both these groups part of what they want.

Unless something like this is worked out, the bitter fight in committee may prevent enactment of any neutrality law at all this session. There are some committee members who would be pleased at such a development, but they were apparently in the minority.

Sentence Court During Morning

Twelve Persons Appear Before Court For Sentence Today

DRUNKEN DRIVERS ARE SENT TO JAIL

Twelve pre-Easter sentences were handed down today by Judges W. Walter Braham and Thomas W. Dickey in the Lawrence County court house.

For the most part they concerned drunken drivers, with a sprinkling of robbery and assault and battery mixed in. All had pleaded to the crime charged.

Lawrence Pagley, assault and battery. Costs of the case and four months in the Lawrence County jail with a petition for parole being entertained at the end of thirty days.

Nathan Micks, malicious mischief. Costs of the prosecution and four months in the county jail.

Edward Sweety, operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Costs $100 for use of the county, 30 days in jail, out in five days upon payment of costs and fine.

Victor Conrad, assault and battery. On probation for one year.

U. S. DENOUNCES ITALY'S INVASION OF LITTLE ALBANIA

Affects America What was regarded as one of the most significant passages of his terse condemnation was the declaration that the new outbreak of aggression directly affects America's "own welfare."

Hull said he had read his statement to President Roosevelt and that it bore the chief executive's full approval. The fact, it was apparent, that the statement was made jointly by Hull and the president in the course of their telephonic review of last minute developments.

It was noted that Hull, in his statement today, made no reference to the legal phases of Italy's violation of treaty agreements in its attack in overwhelming military force on the tiny, strategically located Adriatic kingdom.

This was brought to his notice by International News Service. He said that this fact did not detract from the first paragraph of his statement in which he made a direct accusation that Italy is guilty of a "forcible and violent invasion" and that, as such, it constitutes "an additional threat to the peace of the world."

A specific inquiry was then made as to whether the Italian invasion was a violation of the Kellogg-Briand anti-war pact, signed at Paris 1928, in which nations of the world solemnly agreed not to resort henceforth to the use of force in the settlement of their differences.

Hull replied that the American government has not as yet gone into the many different shades of meaning of the invasion and that it rests its case for the moment on the declaration that Italy has forcibly and violently invaded a friendly neighbor—that any threat to peace "seriously concerns all nations."

NEUTRALITY LAW DISPUTE MAY END IN COMPROMISE

Implements of war but may be invoked only by the President. Forces advocating mandatory legislation would at least partially win their fight if an amendment were adopted giving Congress, also, power to call the law into force.

Cash-and-carry exporters naturally want expiring sections of the law re-enacted. The compromise outlined would give both these groups part of what they want.

Unless something like this is worked out, the bitter fight in committee may prevent enactment of any neutrality law at all this session. There are some committee members who would be pleased at such a development, but they were apparently in the minority.

INDUSTRY FILM SCHEDULED

A motion picture film, "Harvest of the Year", depicting the development of one of the nation's great industries, will be seen by New Castle Kiwanians at their meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday, April 12.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Newton E. Neely. Mrs. Zaidie Rose Magee Neely, aged 52 years, wife of Newton E. Neely, died at the residence, 121 North Center street, Grove City, at 12:15 p. m., Friday after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Neely was born in Utica, Mercer county, on February 8, 1887, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Elliott Magee. She was a member of the Grace M. E. church of Grove City, the True Blue Bible class and the P. H. C. No. 9.

She leaves her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Irene Brown of Grove City, Mrs. Doris Riddle of Grove City R. D. 4, and Mrs. Gladys Reed, at home, and seven grandchildren.

Services will be conducted Monday at 2:30 p. m. in the Cunningham funeral home, Grove City, with Rev. J. E. Billings in charge. Interment will be in Woodland cemetery. Friends will be received this evening from 7 to 9 o'clock; also on Sunday from 2 to 4 and from 7 to 9.

James W. Reed. James W. Reed, who would have been 87 years old next July, died Friday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred Johnson in Burbank, Cal., according to word received in New Castle where he resided all his life until twelve years ago.

Mr. Reed was formerly a janitor at the Lincoln-Garfield school and was well known to many New Castle people. He was preceded in death by his wife, Augusta Platt Reed, in 1929.

Surviving are the following children: L. H. Reed, and Mrs. Alice Hartman of New Castle; Mrs. George Vandegriff of Torrance, Cal.; Mrs. Fred Johnson of Burbank, Cal.; and Mrs. Jane Reed Klasinger of Reading, Pa.

No word concerning plans for the funeral and burial was received in the message. It is believed that he will be interred in California, however.

McArthur Services. A splendid tribute was paid to the memory of the late Frank Richard McArthur, Jr., of Youngstown, O., formerly of New Castle, Friday afternoon in the Hodge funeral home of this city. The youth was well known and popular and his death was a sorrow to all who knew him.

Funeral services for the late Frank Richard McArthur, Jr., of Youngstown, O., formerly of New Castle, were held at the Trinity M. E. church of Youngstown, Rev. M. E. McBride of the Grace M. E. church of Youngstown and Rev. William W. McLean of the First M. E. church of New Castle.

Mrs. W. P. Felch of the local church sang during the services two beautiful hymns. A great many flowers had been sent from far and near. The funeral home was filled by relatives and friends.

Pallbearers were cousins, John, James and Edward Campbell, Robert and Edward Elmore and Joseph McArthur. Interment was in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Brunton Funeral Time. Funeral services for the late Mrs. Alex Brunton of Grove City, who died early Friday morning at the Lincoln Memorial hospital, will be held at the Black funeral home, Grove City, on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in Woodland cemetery. In addition to the survivors mentioned in the obituary yesterday, is a sister, Cora Ramsey of Grove City.

George Selig Funeral. Services for the late George A. Selig of Wilson avenue were conducted by the Rev. Paul J. Two of Bethany Lutheran church, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the David M. Ritchie funeral home.

The pallbearers were Merle and Walter Collar, George Reybolt, John Hall, James Cochran and Lawrence Selig.

Interment was in Oak Park cemetery.

Sutcliffe Services. Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, funeral services for the late Thomas H. Sutcliffe of Lorain avenue, were conducted in the Jos. S. Rice Co. chapel with Rev. J. Calvin Rose of the Second U. P. church in charge, assisted by Rev. S. Y. Sankey of Plaingrove, former pastor of the Wolfcreek U. P. church.

Flower bearers were members of the I. O. O. F. lodge: Samuel Martin, Clifford Martin, Fred Holmann, George Holmann, Raymond Maxwell and C. J. Haneschmidt.

Pallbearers were Frank Wadlinger, Henry Lehman, John Miller, John Earhart, Clarence McCormick and Charles Gwin. Interment was in Wolfcreek cemetery.

out Italy on the meaning of the invasion in the light of the Anglo-Italian pact guaranteeing the status quo in the Mediterranean and of Italian assurances earlier in the week that Albanian territorial integrity would be respected.

Sound Out Balkans At the same time, authorities sounded out the Balkan nations in what appeared to be an intensive effort to line them up to resist any further totalitarian aggression. Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax conferred with the diplomatic envoys of Greece, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Turkey.

Diplomatic quarters felt Britain faces a serious menace in the Eastern Mediterranean, where Italy is regarded as having created a direct threat to the Greek island of Corfu—a British naval base in the Balkan area.

Reports circulated 30,000 Italian troops are massed on Rhodes and the Dodecanese Islands, within striking distance of Corfu. So seriously is the situation regarded that officials said parliament, now in recess over the Easter holidays, might be recalled next week for an extraordinary session.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CAN'T KEEP TOT FROM RADIO

A Mother writes:

"Dear Dr. Myers: I am writing you about a problem that is beyond me! It is about the everlasting, unending radio programs that fill the air from five on through seven o'clock in our part of the country.

"My husband and I are so fed up with these programs and all the advertising that goes with them, but not so our son! This only child is just eight years old, and until this year we were fairly successful in keeping the radio turned off. He was a sensitive baby and even now during illness has very bad dream sensations. These he cannot describe, nor do I urge him to.

"Dr. Myers, what am I going to do about these programs? Do you think any good comes from them?

Son Loves Them

"My son seems to love them and all his friends listen to them. I am an active member and officer in our P. T. A. here, and we are trying to do something about children's radio programs.

"My reply in part: The only good I can see in such programs as you name is the financial gain to those who sponsor them. I should class such programs as Enemy Number One to innocent and defenseless childhood, the greatest curse that has ever hit the home. And ours is the only nation in the world where this enemy is tolerated.

What should distress us is that parents who know better will aid and abet this curse by letting their children turn the dial to these dastardly destroyers of mental health; nor do they raise their voices against these programs to the broadcaster on behalf of other children whose parents also fail to supervise the dial.

Have No Control

Of course, most parents just admit that they can't control their children enough to control the dial. When their children, now between about six and 14, the chief victims of this public nuisance, were much younger, their parents did not train them in the unambiguous meaning of NO. These parents thought they should not—had they not been told not to restrain their dear little ones lest they might ruin their personality or drive them to insanity or delinquency? Led astray by the false prophets of no restraint, these parents feel helpless now as their children dial about what they please.

For these parents there is just one hope—to prevail on the broadcaster to keep bad programs from the air. But did you ever talk to a broadcaster about this? You should. Then you will learn that very, very few parents ever write protests to him. They just fuss and fume over the bridge table or at the P. T. A. and club and do nothing.

Here is a practical suggestion for parents who really care: Procure a pack of post cards. Every time you hear or think of a bad program write your protest to the station.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

OFF THE RECORD

All history is not contained in history books. Historians scorn the little things; they only wish to seem "knowledgeable" upon the lives of Kings, princes, rulers and cabinet ministers and the whys and wherefores of events. But to know the actors who occupied the stage from time to time, the reader must look to story books. These stories constitute, however, the High Lights.

General U. S. Grant had just asked of President Lincoln additional Federal troops. He explained to his reason that it was necessary to guard and hold territory captured in the South. These forces, the General explained, could perform their service just as well by advancing by as by remaining still, and by advancing would force the enemy to keep detachments to hold them in check, or less lay them open to invasion.

"Oh, yes! I see that," said Lincoln. "As they say out West if a man can't skin a cat, he must hold a leg while somebody else does."

During the Civil War both the Northern and Southern troops made great attempts at destroying railroads, bridges and tunnels to prevent passage of troops and supplies. Consequently, both sides became adept at repairing twisted steel and burned trestles. General Sherman's task was to repair the old Virginia Central Railroad. He did this task well, and in so doing captured a rebel outpost. Sherman questioned the men, asking why they had not destroyed a tunnel through which the train had to pass.

"Because," said the captive, "our Lieutenant said: 'No use, boys, Old Sherman carries duplicate tunnels with him and he'll replace them as fast as we blow them up; better save our powder.'"

Hints On Etiquette

Until recently the tuxedo was worn only on semi-formal or "stag" affairs, the full dress suit being the only correct attire for men when ladies were present at evening gatherings. In recent years, and in less formal circles, the tuxedo may be worn on many occasions in place of the full dress suit.

Lots of times the man who is sharper than a needle pricks the wrong man.

Words Of Wisdom

Hail! ye small sweet courtesies of life, for smooth do ye make the road of it, like grace and beauty, which beget inclinations to love at first sight, it is ye who open the door and let the stranger in.—Sterne.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 6:32. Sun rises tomorrow 5:31.

Our idea of delicate institution is the stock market. The least little thing gives it the jitters—and prices fall!

While drunk recently an Iowa man bought a farm and a second-hand automobile and married an old maid. And, boy, has he got a hang-over ever since.

During March of this year 5,663 new telephones were installed in Pennsylvania. This is a good sign that there is more talk and people like to do it the easiest way.

Here is a practical suggestion for parents who really care: Procure a pack of post cards. Every time you hear or think of a bad program write your protest to the station.

A Philadelphia man won a prize by eating 20 hot dogs in five minutes. Then he had use for his prize—a bottle of dyspepsia tablets.

The government has decided to give business a break. It cost only twenty-five billion to learn that we can prosper without it.

Isms do not make people over. If people tolerate an ism that destroys freedom, they never really had any to destroy.

If fashion says they're in, they're in, no matter how they make you look.

Words are alive; they are vital things; They live with us, now and forever. And once we release them they can't be recalled. We can't get them back again, ever.

How many times have you ached to recall A word that was thoughtlessly spoken? But, saying you're sorry, with tears in your eyes, Will not mend a heart that you've broken.

No deadlier weapons have ever been used Than words that are harsh or unkind. Yet we hurl them about, where they may strike a friend And buy themselves in his mind.

Always a gesture or "slip of the tongue" Will prove we are false or true blue. It is rarely the things we think or feel. But, just what we SAY or DO.

So, whenever you feel your temper rise, Just take "time out" to count ten And when you have learned what a difference this makes You will never speak harshly again.

Whether the conscientious effort really is, depends upon who is selected to do the judging.

The reason so many rackets exist is because the people are suckers enough to hand over their money to the racketeers—and they are mostly all strangers who run the rackets.

The entranced buyer rushed up to the real estate agent. "What the devil do you mean telling me I could grow nuts on that land?" he demanded.

"Hold your horses," said the agent. "I didn't say that at all. What I said was you would go nuts on it."

In Wales they are planning an aerial police force. Some day we will never see a policeman, not even in an automobile.

Lots of times the man who is sharper than a needle pricks the wrong man.

The new boss was strongly against smoking during office hours. One day he came into a department and saw a glowing cigaret on the floor.

HE WONDERED

"I want you to find my husband," said the woman as she appeared at the missing persons bureau. "Here's his picture."

The sergeant looked at the photo. "So you want to find your husband, eh?" he asked. "Why?"

If we were to run for a public office in New Castle one of the things in our platform would be: "Clean up the Mess Along the Neshannock Creek Above the North St. Bridge." It is also a flood menace. It could be made a beautiful place.

That yapping in Europe about war and other things, has at least given Americans a good chance to learn names that they never could learn in a geography.

Lots of times it is because it is your own idea, you think so much of it.

"This is William, the new butler I have hired," said the man of the house to his wife.

"Very well," she replied. "Then, turning to the butler: 'I am not accustomed to calling the servants by their first name. Tell me your last name.'"

"Honey, madam," replied the man. "You will find your uniform in your room, William," said the housewife formally.

One good thing about airplanes they very seldom drop on houses. It's a good thing to carry insurance that protects a house just the same.

A little of this and a little of that reminds one of a cafeteria.

UNEQUAL The couple stood before the judge seeking divorce. Noting the apparent discrepancy in the ages of man and wife, the judge said:

"Has your marriage been unhappy because it was a case of December and May?"

"Not at all, judge," said the woman. "It was Labor day wedded to the day of rest."

Away back the kids did not figure on eating a lot of eggs on Easter. What they tried to do was to gather as many as they could and sell them to people who wanted to eat a dozen or so on that day.

Mrs. Duff—Some things go without saying. Duff—Yes, my dear, but your tongue isn't one of them.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY "That's a nice suit you have on; do you mind my asking how much you paid for it?"

"Not at all, a hundred and ten dollars."

"Don't you think it is quite a bit?"

"Oh, I don't know. I got nine pairs of pants with it."

It was because Mrs. Hum was forever yelling at him to do this or that in "three jerks of a lamb's tail" that he sold off his stock and went in for vegetables.

Boss (sterning)—You're fired! Stenog—Fired. How you talk. I supposed they sold slaves.

Few people are deliberately bad. Both humble and great use the same alibi: "I didn't mean any harm."

What's What At A Glance

Farley And Garner In Lead
Held Likeliest Standard Bearers
Farley Primarily Is Party Man

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Guests on probabilities for the next Democratic presidential nomination seem to be settling down to the verdict that it's about a stand-off between James A. Farley and John N. Garner. I can believe that either of this pair might be tolerably satisfactory to more or less conservative Democrats but I can't see that either of them could suit even moderately cut-and-out New Dealers. The vice president nearly is aggressively anti-New Deal. In fact, he is aggressive something less than under the skin. Nobody doubts that he keeps a semi-hush of his anti-New Dealerishness with considerable difficulty, or that he'd be definitely old-fashioned once in the White House. He'd be acceptable to the "antis" (and a lot of Republicans) down to the ground, except for one thing: he's a bit too old for them.

Farley gets along fairly well with the Roosevelt administration, but it's recognized that he isn't altogether in sympathy with it. He isn't troublesomely lukewarm, though. The Rooseveltians can afford to ignore it. Indeed, they can't afford NOT to ignore it—in the chairman of their own national committee. Nor can the postmaster general afford to be too conspicuously "anti"—at the present stage of the game.

He's a Party Man

Jim primarily is a party man. His first thought is not to split Democracy—not too soon, anyway. Nevertheless, the conservatives think he'd be on their side in the executive mansion.

For that matter, it doesn't pay John N. to split the party. That's what restrains him slightly. However, he isn't at all diplomatic as James A. is. Jim's age is all right also.

Garner's geography is a trifle against him—away down south in Texas. Still, Texas isn't so much southern as southwestern. Sectional prejudices are wearing off likewise. Farley's locale (New York) is dandy. Manhattan isn't nationally so popular a place to hail from, but Jim's home town was Grassy Point; he can call himself a ruralite.

Farley's a Roman Catholic. Against Catholicism there isn't, happily, the same hostility as that which existed when Al Smith was Democracy's candidate. I'd surmise that it wouldn't appreciably signify in 1940.

Garner's record is one of undiluted statesmanship—a congressional representative, a party leader in the lower house on Capitol Hill, speaker of his chamber, vice president—and a corkscrew creditable one. Farley graduated into politics from a membership on the New York boxing commission—as a kind of glorified prize fight referee. Keneas W. Landis stepped down from the federal bench to the czarship of baseball. Farley was promoted to a cabinet post from the prize ring. I'd say that Garner's past outrated Farley's—for the presidency.

But Their Rivals?

What rivals, however, have Garner and Farley?

Well, Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri is a conspicuous one. The trouble with Senator Clark is that he's a more emphatic anti-New Dealer than either the Texan or the New Yorker. The New Deal never could stand for him for a minute.

Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes? He never was really considered, and isn't a bit considered today. Agriculture Secretary Henry A. Wallace? He's out. Commerce Secretary Harry L. Hopkins? Nobody reckons with him any longer.

Sum it up—

And the New Deal hasn't a candidate to amount to anything—except F. D. to succeed himself. And talk of HIS renomination to succeed himself is fizzling out.

The nub is—

The New Deal hasn't a good candidate to succeed F. D.

Democracy's consoling thought is: The Republicans haven't a half-way decent candidate, either.

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright, 1938)

Garner And The 1940 Vote

WASHINGTON, April 8. THE relative strength of the active and receptive candidates for President in both parties can be measured these days with a considerable degree of accuracy by the attacks of the New Deal spokesmen. The vehemence with which they are assailed is as good a yardstick as any.

AT THE moment, for example, on the Democratic side their shafts, well-dipped in vitriol are aimed at the broad breasts of those two stalwart regulars, who show so far ahead in the polls—to wit, Mr. Garner and Mr. Farley. Particularly is this true of Mr. Garner, around whom are centering the frankly anti-New Deal Democratic leaders and who seems likely, if not named himself, to be in position to say who shall be.

A SOMEWHAT concentrated effort is being made to smear Mr. Garner as "disloyal" to the President, though why it should be disloyal for him to differ with Mr. Roosevelt either in the matter of policies or the matter of politics is not explained. The fact is that the doctrine Mr. Garner quietly preaches now in his Cabinet and Senatorial conversations is exactly the doctrine Mr. Roosevelt preached from the house tops all through his 1932 campaign.

And it was doctrine basic in that 1932 platform, to every word of which he was pledged. However, the New Dealers somewhat heatedly point out the reasons Mr. Garner would make a poor candidate. For one thing, they insist, he is too old; for another, he is regarded as a reactionary; for another, his opposition to the sit-down strike identifies him as unfriendly to labor; for another, he is a millionaire. He is claimed, he does not want to be nominated, and will not be, one wonders why so much ammunition is used to disparage him.

THOSE who understand politics and are in position to be detached, derive some amusement from the completeness with which these Administration adherents refrain from so much as mentioning the really big Garner liability—to wit, the effect of his candidacy upon the Negro vote in New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Missouri and Michigan. The New Deal politicians and publicists do not mention this because they do not care about calling attention to the extent of their own political dependence on this vote.

THEY dislike discussion of the subject for two reasons—first, because it reveals that their Negro support was largely obtained through relief funds and Federal jobs; second, because the more it is dwelt upon the greater the resentment in the South, where the full facts of the extraordinary New Deal courtship of the Northern Negro have never fully penetrated. Nevertheless, it is clear that the so-called Roosevelt landslide of 1932 was primarily due to the 2,000,000 Negro votes which were taken out of the Republican party in these eleven states and transferred to the Democrats. Without them some of those states would have gone for Landon instead of Roosevelt. Without them Mr. Roosevelt would still have been elected, but there certainly would have been no landslide.

LAST year in these states about fifty per cent of the Negroes swung back to the Republican party. Few will question that the nomination of a Democrat from a far Southern state in which Negroes are debared

SPRING THOUGHT

Spring's on the way!
The birds nest again,
And part of the day
Is captured by rain;
The old and the gray
Have forgotten their pain.

The blue's in the sky;
The gardens are green,
A delight to the eye
Now the tulips are seen,
The door steps near-by
Are all spotlessly clean.

All things are made new
That were weary and old.
As the first one that grew
Is the year's marriest old,
That the doubter may view
God's great promise unfold.

Bible Thought For Today

Honour the Lord with thy substance and with the first fruits of all things increase. So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine. Proverbs 3:9-10.

ON EASTER MORNING

THERE are countries where Easter Sunday is the day of all the year for exchanging greetings of friendship, which repeat the good tidings of resurrection of nineteen centuries ago.

Everywhere it is a day of gladness and new hope, of fresh faith and courage.

This is the spiritual message of Easter morning, first given by One who said, "Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid."

Here Easter comes in the spring of the year, when every tree and flower repeats the mystery of resurrection. Out of the earth life is renewed, denying the seeming death of winter. This is a miracle, yet there is nothing so familiar. Nor does any man doubt that the dawn of spring will follow the darkness of winter in the faithful cycle of the seasons. This is a sort of faith "woven of conviction and set with the sharp mordant of experience." It is an ancient certainty, taught by the past to keep hope alive for the future.

So is the certainty of Easter morning, which is the key-stone of faith for all Christian peoples. Long ago it was promised, "Because I live, ye shall live also." Religious life would lose its meaning without the abiding promise of resurrection. That is the message of tomorrow's festival of churches, the message of the day's greetings, the message of every flower which blooms in honor of the spring.

AMERICAN EMIGRANTS?

The whole history of the United States has been a history of immigration.

The gradual filling of the vast spaces of the country by streams of people coming from all the world have made up America's story.

Now it is possible that another chapter will be added which will be quite different. Brazil may open its gates to immigrants from the United States.

Thousands of letters have been received asking about living standards; climate, opportunities, and plans are being made which may open free land grants in the states of Sao Paulo and Parana to farm immigrants from the United States.

While it seems unlikely that any large number of Americans will turn immediately to Brazil for their future, some may do so.

If they do, we may in our own time witness the turning of the tide of population flow, and watch it recede from the shore where for so long it rose higher with the years.

REJECTING JITTERS

For all the common acceptance of the theory that Wall Street market movements reflect the public mind, in the matter of confidence or lack of it, the truth is the violences of the securities lists are very much solely the product of the opinion of the speculative fringe of the investment group in America and not of general public opinion.

At the end of last week the securities market fell into one of its gloomy fits. Foreign selling of securities, set into motion by fresh war-fears, bore down on prices, with the help of flighty American investors of the speculative kind, who unloaded.

These hair-trigger investors do not represent the sentiment of Americans an overwhelming majority of whom are never in Wall Street.

On the contrary the mass of Americans are continuing calmly on their accustomed course. They realize that economically the present is a difficult stretch made more difficult by over-seas sword-rattling. But they also realize that America is sound as a dollar and that there are a thousand alarms for every war. And realizing this the American people can be depended upon to reject any resort to jitters.

WHAT GOES ON?

What's the New York World's Fair coming to? Can those voices raised against it come from native sons? Seems as though, and right out in meeting, too—City Council meeting. Here is Mr. Burke, a member from Queens, sinking the old civic spirit in a sea of indignation.

A "glorified country fair" is his derogatory description of the "World of Tomorrow." As for the Fair's entrepreneur, Mr. Grover Whalen, he is to the acridulous Mr. Burke a combination "P. T. Barnum and David Harum" who is intent upon putting the city in hock.

Having thus heard from Queens, Mr. Salvatore Ninio, Bronx Labor member, thereupon conferred his native raspberry on the Fair. Outsiders, mark you, are being imported to fill Fair jobs while the home talent is ignored. He wants an investigation. To Mr. Ninio the Fair is no fairy-land of trylons and perispheres. Mr. Whalen can keep his perispheres. Mr. Ninio will take patronage.

As for Mr. Burke, evidently he feels that one of Mr. Whalen's exhibits should be a pork barrel, for he has assured all hands the Fair may cost $239,000,000. Gentlemen, gentlemen, a pretty pass! And speaking of passes and patronage, could either or both have anything to do with the clamor?

POLITICAL BLACKMAIL OUTLAWED

Final passage by both houses of the state legislature of the Woodside anti-macing bill is an important victory for the James administration. After long years of corruptive practices this act makes it unlawful for anyone to solicit political contributions from state, city or county employees, from relief recipients or relief workers.

The purpose of this law is simply to do away with the deplorable macing of public employees by politicians, which, according to District Attorney Carl B. Shelley of Dauphin county who is pressing extortion and macing charges against high Democratic officials, bilked relief and public employees out of $2,000,000.

That this law will immediately and automatically eradicate macing may be too much to expect. Laws against murder do not wipe it out. Yet the measure expresses a vigorous remedial effort. It is a reassurance to persons trying to eke out an existence on the dole or relief jobs that they henceforth need not be bludgeoned into turning back some of their pitiful income into the slush fund of politicians under duress so emboldened in recent years as to shock the nation.

Pennsylvania is throwing off the mantle of obloquy and is telling the world, as well as its long-suffering employees, that the era of permissive kick-back and political blackmail is officially ended. It is none too soon.

The raincrow, whose song prophesies rain, belongs to the cuckoo family. This seems to be characteristic of all weather prophets.

Last night services, beginning with a procession around the church in which a portrait of Christ on the Cross was carried, were conducted from 8 to 11 o'clock. Another mass was celebrated this morning.

from voting by a white primary election law, would greatly accelerate the trend back of the other fifty per cent; would, in fact, mean that in these states the Republicans would regain completely their basic asset. In brief, the nomination of Mr. Garner, or for that matter any other Democrat from a Southern state where Jim Crow laws are in effect, where the Negroes are restrained or restricted from voting and the sentiment is strongly against such legislation as the anti-lynching bill—the nomination of such a Democrat would again make Republicans of the Northern Negroes, lured away by WPA and NYA, by the anti-segregation speeches of Mr. Harold Ickes, the uplift work of Mr. Aubrey Williams and the unprecedented recognition accorded by even more highly placed Administration officials.

UNQUESTIONABLY, the Garner nomination would nullify immediately the six years of work the New Deal has put in with the Negroes and insure success of the Republican efforts to recapture their vote. Of course, Mr. Garner's tenure has never to this day. Negro votes in these states they say, are not in jeopardy to Democratic success. Grover Cleveland twice, Woodrow Wilson twice and Franklin Roosevelt once were all elected when the Negroes were solidly Republican. Mr. Garner would get as they got the votes of thousands of white Republicans in the eleven states. All that is true enough, but it is also true that when those victories occurred it was the Republican party that was split and the Democratic party that was united. Now that situation is reversed.

Following ministers gave short sermons on the "Last Seven Words of Christ," during the service, and the program was interspersed by special music.

Rev. D. C. Schnebly, Rev. E. G. Russell, Rev. J. A. Cousins, Rev. Milton E. Shearer, Rev. E. A. Shoemaker, Rev. T. B. Shearer and Rev. D. J. Blasdel.

The program was arranged by the New Castle Ministerial Association.

Workmen Cleaning Cemetery Grounds

Greens And Trees Being Put In Shape For Growing Season In Ward

The caretakers and their helpers for the two cemeteries in the Seventh Ward, Valley View and St. Lucy's cemetery, have been busy this week cleaning the grounds of the two burial places.

As the caretakers have been hauled and placed on the roads in both cemeteries, to fill in the holes and ruts caused by the rain and cold weather.

Fallen leaves, dead twigs, and branches from trees have been raked up and taken from the site. In the Valley View cemetery, grass seed has been sown and within a few months the lawns will be beautiful.

Simpson Methodist Program At Sunrise

Another Easter sunrise service is planned by the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. Harry L. Johnson. The initial service last year was of such beauty and inspiration that there was a request that it be repeated.

The service will open at 6:30 Sunday morning on the lawn of the Crawford Oakridge Home across from the church on Atlantic avenue.

"Four Star" Contest Will Close Sunday

Expect Record Attendance At Sunday School And Church Services

Tomorrow brings to a close the eight weeks Pre-Easter increase campaign known as the "Four Star" increase campaign which is being sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association and in which 65 Sunday schools are participating, and if the weather is at all favorable this should be the banner day from the point of both Sunday school and church attendance.
So far there have been only three Sundays which were favorable from the standpoint of the weather, but despite the four inclement Sundays the attendance has been remarkably good throughout. Of the seven Sundays to date, March 27th was the most favorable and as a general rule, the highest attendances were gained on that Sunday.
"Every One Out Sunday" is the designation for Easter, and it will probably be the just that, as together with the sunrise services being held by Christian organizations and the significance of the day, most people will attend some Sunday school and church.

The first goal of the campaign, an increase in evangelism, will be especially stressed Easter for many baptisms services will be held. Some churches will have the largest number of baptisms this Easter for the past few years.
While in a few of the groups the winners are pretty well established due to substantial leads, still in most of the ten groups the winners will not be known until the reports are in for Easter Sunday. These leaders will be honored at the annual convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association which is to be held at the New Wilmington U. P. church, Thursday, June 15, by being presented with suitable awards in recognition of their splendid achievements.

Professor Platt To Speak Monday

The regular meeting of the New Castle Ministerial association will be held in the First Presbyterian church on Monday morning at 10:30, with Dr. H. A. McCurdy, the president, in charge. Following the business meeting, the guest speaker, Prof. Charles A. Platt, professor of psychology at Grove City college, will be introduced. Prof. Platt has chosen as his subject, "The Christ Whom a Layman Wants to Know."

Homestead Pastor At Hungarian Church

J. Petrusz, an associate pastor of the First Hungarian Baptist church of Homestead will conduct the Easter Day services in the First Hungarian Baptist church, Cunningham avenue.

Mr. Petrusz is a former resident of New Castle and is well known and liked by the Hungarian people. This will be the first Easter service in the local church since its dedication.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

COMPLICATIONS OF SCARLET FEVER PRESENT VI- TAL DANGERS

The Dionne quintuplets have never had scarlet fever, and they won't have it either, if we can do anything to prevent it.

I know we seem to have talked a whole lot about this disease, but it is a very serious illness because of the complications that may follow in its wake. I haven't seen many children die of scarlet fever, but I have seen far too many succumb to kidney trouble or mastoid or heart trouble which could be traced directly and unerringly to an attack of scarlet fever.

This is the reason I say that we want to keep the quintuplets from contracting scarlet fever, if we can. This is also the reason that people no longer adopt the attitude that the sooner a child gets all these infectious diseases and them over with, the better.

Too often I have been called to a house where a child was down with scarlet fever to find that his mastoid had been infected by the poison. Sometimes these mastoids get better and sometimes the infection went on into the brain and the child died. Too often I have found children with infected ears, the eardrum ruptured, and partial deafness for life the result. I can speak feelingly on this particular subject for I suffered an ear infection when I was a child as the result of scarlet fever, and I have always been a little deaf on that side.

Scarlet fever, as I have said before, is caused by one of the streptococcus family. It is a relation of the organism that causes "strep" throats and blood poisoning. That is one of the reasons we can't afford to regard it too lightly.

I always watch scarlet fever patients very carefully checking for these complications. Quite often I have found weeks after the disease is better that the poison has affected the child's heart; that he has been left with a weakened heart muscle; that the valves aren't closing the way they should.

Weakened kidneys is another affliction that follows in the wake of scarlet fever at times. An examination of the urine of the patient will show it full of albumen. The filters in the kidneys have been impaired. This condition was once called Bright's Disease.

Pneumonia is another serious complication I have had to fight in many a case of scarlet fever. To begin with, the child's natural resistance has been lowered by the illness; besides, the mucous membranes of the throat have been infected and are inflamed, often the bronchial tubes are involved. There are some pneumonia germs present, and the first thing you know the child is fighting for its life, not so much against the scarlet fever but against the complication.

So parents, protect your child all you can against scarlet fever. If he is unfortunate enough to contract it, get your doctor on the job at once for complications are serious when they do occur.

Townsend Meeting On Friday Night

Friday evening, a district Townsend meeting was held at the Court House, presided over by Dave Young of Townsend Club No. 3. Rev. Samuel Matland, gave the invocation prayer. The Hawaiian Four were introduced, who rendered several instrumental selections, and the Lawrence Castle Four gave several vocal quartets.

J. E. Robb, Townsend national representative in this state, was introduced, who gave a summary explanation of the Townsend plan, and told of the progress being made at Washington, D. C., toward the enactment of the Plan into law.

Retired President Of Carnegie Tech Taken By Death

Dr. Thomas S. Baker, Dies
After Being In Coma For Past Five Days

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 8.—Educator and humanitarian, Dr. Thomas S. Baker, 68-year-old president emeritus of Carnegie Institute of Technology, was dead today from a paralytic stroke that left the once active lecturer and traveler in a coma five days ago.

Dr. Baker was president of Carnegie Tech for 12 years, from 1923 to 1935, when he retired because of poor health. The stroke which caused his death was the third since last fall. Funeral services were to be held Monday, with interment in Maryland.

His 12-year tenure as Carnegie Tech president generally was regarded as the important development period which lifted that institution to the top ranks of technical schools. Dr. Baker first came there as secretary in 1919. Three years later he became acting president, then Tech's second president seven months later.

Dividend Payment Of Books Will Be Given To Finland

Only Foreign Nation To Pay
War Debt In Full Will Get
Fine Collection Of Books

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 8.—A "dividend" was in the making here today for Finland, the only country to pay her debts in full to the United States.

The donation was to take the form of a small library of fine books in English, to be sent to Finland as a mark of appreciation from the American people.

The collector—and donations of books of literary value in excellent condition are still sought—is Mrs. Malcom McLeod, wife of the head of the Carnegie Institute of Technology English department. The gift has been accepted in advance by the delegation of scientific societies of Finland, she said.

Books may be sent to 928 Bellefonte street, Pittsburgh, or to Trinity Cathedral.

Within the next few months it seems reasonably certain that a new wing will be built on the court house to give needed space to the office of the prothonotary and clerk of courts and the sheriff.

On Thursday a conference was held between the county commissioners and the court in which it was agreed that the wing was to be built and the next step will be to employ an architect to draw plans. Following that the work will be started it is expected.

The wing will fill up a bay which now exists between the register and recorder's office and the sheriff's office. In size it is about 35 feet wide and about 20 feet long. The wing will go up two stories.

If and when the wing is built and the Boyles property is remodeled, there will be ample space for all court purposes for many years to come.

In the office of the prothonotary and clerk of courts, Betty Williams, recently visited Thomas Aiken, of Glassport.

Baptist Church To Give Cantata Sunday Afternoon

"Penitence, Pardon And Peace" By Maund To Be Presented At 4 O'clock

ELLWOOD CITY, April 8.—The choir of the First Baptist church under the direction of Mrs. B. G. Osterhouse and Miss Sallee Hazen will present their annual Easter cantata, Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. Miss Ruth Drescher of New Castle, Richard Patterson of New Wilmington and many local singers will assist in singing "Penitence, Pardon and Peace" by J. H. Maund. The cantata is as follows:

Part I, Penitence
"How long wilt thou forget me—Chorus."
"Oh that I knew where I might find Him"—Soprano solo, Miss Ruth Drescher.

Part II, Pardon
Oh cast thy burden upon the Lord—Baritone solo and chorus—Richard Patterson.
I sink in deep mine—Soprano solo—Mrs. Samuel Mullin.
Lord is this thy Mercy's day—Baritone solo and chorus—Paul Winter.

Part III, Peace
When the Son of Man shall come in his glory—Chorus.
Come ye blessed by my Father—Baritone solo—Richard Patterson.
These are they which came on of great tribulation—Chorus.
Now therefore our God we thank thee—Chorus.

Ellwood Churches Observe Good Friday In Impressive Manner
Seven Last Sayings Of Christ Meditated In Three Hour Service
ELLWOOD CITY, April 8.—Quiet, impressive solemnity fitting to the occasion marked the three hour continuous Good Friday service held from 12 to 3 p. m. in the Trinity Lutheran church under the auspices of the Ellwood City Ministerial Association.

Between five and six hundred people were in attendance throughout the service with many others attending only a portion of the service. Many favorable comments and expressions of appreciation to the ministers for arranging the observance were heard.

There was only one change in the original program with Rev. Charles F. Bell speaking in place of H. F. Pollock, of Wurttemberg, who had been confined to his home by illness.

Lowell Monroe Gives Report Of Boro Activities

Summary Report For 1938 Shows Ellwood City Has Made Considerable Progress

ELLWOOD CITY, April 8.—The year 1938 as it affected Ellwood City can no doubt be classed along with most past years, insofar as municipal accomplishments are concerned, according to the following summary report submitted to boro council by City Manager Lowell W. Monroe.

Outstanding physical accomplishments were: paving of Hazel avenue from Smiley street west to College street, the grading of Orchard avenue from College street west to Ore street, the construction of a storm sewer along the Ellwood Southern Railway company's right-of-way, the extension of sanitary sewer facilities in Line avenue from Poch street west to Wood street, the opening up and developing of additional spaces in Ewing Park for recreation, drives, walks, etc., and the replacing of the original switchboard in the electric light plant installed about 1904.

Ellwood City enjoyed another year of comparative freedom from contagious disease with the exception of small epidemics of whooping cough, mumps and measles among the school children.

Fortunately, few serious crimes were reported to the police department which left the department free for routine duty and miscellaneous work such as petty crimes and traffic duty.

On account of two fires, the Baptist church and the Ellwood Forge, crankshaft division, Ellwood City dropped from the very low fire loss per capita classification to one higher than has been experienced for a number of years.

The effect of state legislation on local government has centered largely around the abatement of penalty and interest charges on tax and improvement liens payments. This has continued policy of the legislature of enacting legislation authorizing taxing authorities to waive such charges, has no doubt been of benefit to a few; however, it is quite apparent that insofar as it affects the local government it has had a tendency to work a hardship.

Habitual delinquent persons apparently think that these penalties have been abated in the past, therefore make no effort, or at least very little, to take advantage of each new act in order to pay delinquent taxes and overdue improvement liens, but also, let current taxes lapse which makes it necessary for each current tax levy to provide for this delinquency, in part at least.

Another act of the legislature, the Uniform Budget Act for all Pennsylvania boro, has been in operation for one year and although new, the procedure has been of considerable benefit and should continue to be more useful to council members as they become better acquainted with its provisions and requirements.

There is one conflict existing between the act and the interpretation that the local board of auditors insists on making of the act under which the board operates. The budget act of 1937 includes the expenditures of all moneys made during the calendar year, whereas, the auditors interpret the fiscal year to mean only the money disbursed during the same period. This interpretation causes a discrepancy to appear between the auditors' statement of accounts and the statement as appears in the budget. An attempt is being made to have this discrepancy cleared up by an enabling act during the 1939 session of the legislature.

There were two other acts of 1937, namely, the unfired boiler inspection act and the plumbing code, the requirements of which council has seen fit to ignore for the time being.

CHURCH OF GOD SOCIETY GATHERS
ELLWOOD CITY, April 8.—Mrs. John King welcomed members of the Women's Missionary society of the Church of God in a hospitable manner on Friday evening at her home on Center avenue.

The hours were spent in quilting with a brief devotional service being led by Mrs. King. They plan to meet to quilt again on next Friday evening at the same place.

Zilman Funeral Sunday Afternoon
ELLWOOD CITY, April 8.—Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Zilman of the Ellwood-New Castle road, who passed away on Friday morning at the local hospital, following a long illness, will be held on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the German Lutheran church in Wayne avenue. The pastor, Rev. Ludwig Beisecker, will officiate.

Friends will be received today and tomorrow by the family at the W. D. Porter funeral home, in Fourth street. Interment will be made in the Slippery Rock cemetery.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS
Martin Reiner, of Ewing Park, left Friday for Birmingham, Michigan, where he will spend the week-end with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mains. He will be accompanied home by Mrs. Reiner who has been visiting there for the past two weeks.

President Still Sought For Full Amount

Sends Message To David Lasser, President Of Worker's Alliance

By ROBERT A. MCGILL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Responsibility for any reduction in relief appropriations "must rest on the congress," President Roosevelt warned again today in a message from his Warm Springs, Ga., retreat, while the senate renewed debate on the $100,000,000 WPA fund.

The message, delivered by the White House to David Lasser, president of the Workers Alliance, an organization of relief workers which protested the latest slash in WPA funds, said:

"Please tell Mr. David Lasser that the president has received his telegram from Georgia and feels as strongly as ever that the full amount should be appropriated and that the responsibility for any cut whatsoever must rest on the congress."

By full amount, the president meant $15,000,000 which he has repeatedly and urgently asked congress to appropriate for the WPA to carry relief rolls until July 1. The amount was trimmed $50,000,000 in a bill passed by the house, approved by the senate appropriations committee and now before the senate.

As senate debate was renewed, New Deal Democrats parried for a show-down on a proposal to increase the bill to $150,000,000. They were reported to be gaining support, and this impelled the senate economy bloc to press for an immediate vote on the $100,000,000 bill.

Dedicate Tygart Dam Next August

Fifteen Million Dollar Structure Will Be Officially Dedicated Late In Summer

GRAFTON, W. Va., April 8.—This northern West Virginia community—home of the Tygart dam—will become the nation's flood control capital for a day August 9 when the massive $15,000,000 structure is officially dedicated.

Headed by the expected appearance of President Roosevelt, more than 200 invited officials of the federal government, state dignitaries of West Virginia and adjoining states will join with thousands of interested spectators in the tri-state area and take part in ceremonies honoring the nation's first completed flood control project.

Plans for the program were announced today by a dedication authority composed of Louis A. Johnson, assistant secretary of war, United States senator M. M. Nierly and Gov. Homer A. Holt, who are assisting local citizens in directing the day-long celebration.

President Gives His Approval To Hull's Statement

Expansion Of Totalitarian States To Affect U. S. Economic Policy

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 8.—President Roosevelt today announced his full approval of secretary of state Hull's denunciation of Italy's conquest of Albania, sources close to the Little White House here pointed out that continued expansion of the totalitarian states eventually was going to affect world trade and force the United States to make a very serious economic decision.

Briefly, because the aggressor nations will expand their barter system of trade it was pointed out that the United States ultimately would lose trade and shipping and be faced with three alternatives:

1. Construction of a "Chinese Wall" in which the nation would attempt to be self-sufficient without trade.

2. A low ring of American standards of living to try to compete in world markets with the aggressor nations and their cheap labor.

3. Subsidization of American exports as a national policy.

Will Set Date For Banquet To Head Of Legion

April 27 Or Early In June To Be Designated At Meeting Tonight

Stephen Chadwick, national commander of the American Legion, is available for a date in New Castle on either April 27 or early in June for a national commander's banquet. It was announced today, whether or not the date will be accepted will be decided tonight in The Castleton hotel, when a meeting of banquet committee members will be held.

Each year the Perry S. Gaston has been the host post for the 26th district banquet to the national commander. This year the date has been delayed for various reasons, and today notice was received from state headquarters that two dates were available.

April 27 is less than three weeks away, and a lot of intensive work would have to be done to put the banquet over on this day. Early in June is getting into the warm weather and there is some doubt as to whether this would be a good date. A preliminary meeting was held at noon today but nothing was decided.

Senator Borah Makes Attack

Assails Army Move To Allow President To Name Aggressor Nation

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 8.—A ringing attack on all proposals for neutrality law that would permit the president to name the aggressor in foreign conflicts was sounded in the senate today by one of its outstanding isolationists—Senator William E. Borah (R. Idaho).

The "Lion of Idaho" who crisply disagreed with former secretary of state Henry L. Stimson when Stimson urged such a law before the senate foreign affairs committee on Thursday made a vigorous denunciation of the plan in a speech as the senate convened for the day.

Stimson's proposal was generally interpreted on Capitol Hill as the objective of the Roosevelt administration, which makes no secret of the fact it wanted the present neutrality law revamped to give the president more power over administration of foreign policy.

ANNUAL MUSIC FESTIVAL AT PENN STATE

The seventh annual rural chorus festival will be one of the features of the annual Farmers' Field Day at the Pennsylvania State college, June 15.

All rural organizations, such as granges, churches, and P. T. A.'s, are eligible for participation. In this connection rural refers to any community or settlement of less than 2,500 population. Organizations meeting in larger towns may participate if more than half the members are farm residents. Members of the various groups must be largely adults or persons of non-school age.

Elimination contests will be held in areas where there are more groups than can be accommodated at the state festival. The closing date for the local eliminations is May 20.

Each chorus will sing a required number, which will be announced later, and an optional selection which may be either sacred or secular. Further information including a copy of the rules, may be obtained at the County Agricultural Extension Association Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

CABBAGE MAGGOTS CAN BE CONTROLLED NOW

This is the season that adults of cabbage maggots emerge to deposit eggs in the soil around early cabbage plants as soon as they are placed in the field.

When the plants are set in the field earlier than usually, they frequently are damaged by maggots before growers realize the flies are out. Early-set cabbage can be protected by treating the soil four or five days after transplanting. Experienced growers who recognize the small, elongated, white eggs delay treatment until examination shows they have been deposited just below the surface.

Soil treatment with corrosive sublimate solution is recommended. Dry or liquid treatments with calomel are also available and in some instances may be better suited for the purpose.

Further information on the control of cabbage maggots can be obtained from the county agricultural extension association office.

PACKAGE BEES MAKE WEAK COLONY STRONG

Buying bees by the pound in the spring is as common with some beekeepers as buying honey by the pound is to their customers.

Many package bees will arrive this month. They will be used to start new colonies or strengthen those that are weak. One pound of bees without a queen is the usual number added to a weak colony. Two or three pounds are used for each empty hive.

If the colonies become weak late

CLEAN BLANKETS BEFORE STORING FOR SUMMER
To get the best service from all wool or part wool blankets, it is necessary to clean them before storing for the summer, according to Miss Julia Markle, home economics extension representative of Lawrence County.

A warm breezy day is ideal for this spring task which every homemaker has on her schedule. The quicker the washing and drying is done, the better the results.

Unless they are cotton, all blankets contain a certain percentage of wool. For best results, Miss Markle advises following directions for washing woolen articles.

The washing may be done by hand or with a washing machine. Before wetting the blanket, shake it to remove all loose dirt and dust. Using mild soap flakes or chipped soap, make a lukewarm solution. If using a machine, put in the blanket and let the machine run three to five minutes. If cedar lumber by hand, avoid rubbing as this has a tendency to "felt" the blanket. Strong soap and too hot of water have the same effect.

Put the blanket through the wringer with loose roller tension or squeeze blanket dry. At least two rinsings in clear water of the same temperature as the first wash water is advisable to keep the blanket soft and fluffy.

Miss Markle recommends hanging the blanket lengthwise over the clothes line with the same amount of weight on each side and using no clothes pins. When the blanket is thoroughly dry, brush the entire surface to bring up the nap and press the binding if necessary.

Equally important as washing is proper storage of blankets. Miss Markle believes, if cedar lined chests are not available, wrap the blankets in newspaper or brown paper and seal or tie securely to protect them from moths and dust. A closet shelf or other clean airy place is suitable for storing the packages.

Blankets may be dry cleaned, but the most economical as well as the most efficient way is washing if done carefully.

Local Navy Man Here On Leave

Joseph Bestresky, Jr., Stationed Aboard Flagship Of U. S. Fleet

Joseph Bestresky, Jr., of 1110 South Jefferson street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bestresky, Sr., same address, is spending 10 days leave of absence at his home here, from the United States naval fleet.

Bestresky is now stationed aboard the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, the flagship of the United States fleet, located at Annapolis, Md. After enlisting here in November of 1937, Bestresky was sent to the Naval Ordnance school at San Diego, Calif., on a scholarship won at the Newport, R. I., training station.

Bestresky saw the president of the United States numerous times during recent maneuvers with the fleet. He was recently elevated to the position of season first class. The Pennsylvania will join the fleet on April 23 at Norfolk, and then proceed to the New York World's Fair.

The Jersey herd of Lauren Thompson, New Wilmington, Pa. led the Association in butterfat production with a record of 1324 pounds of milk and 72.9 pounds butterfat. Third high in the Association was a grade Jersey owned by F. W. Byers of North Beaver Township, whose production was 728 pounds of butterfat and 1373 pounds of milk for the month. All three of the above cows are entered on test as four-year olds. Fourth on the list was a Jersey owned by R. N. Moose of Wilmington Township with a record of 1147 pounds of milk and 72.3 pounds butterfat. A Jersey owned by F. W. Byers was fifth on the list having a production record of 1243 pounds of milk and 65.9 pounds of butterfat.

Chamberlain To Return At Once From Scotland

Will Cut Vacation Short And Return To Duties At Once

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 8.—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, although badly in need of a rest after the anxiety of recent months, decided today to hasten back to London from his holiday in Scotland.

Also, it was suggested at an emergency meeting of the available cabinet members, parliament may be called back from recess in the middle of next week, a week ahead of time, and Lord Perth, ambassador to Rome, may be summoned to report on the Albanian situation.

Cabinet ministers, including the defense secretaries—the ministers for air, war, the admiralty and coordination of defense—will remain in or near London to be on hand for any emergency, it was decided.

Chamberlain, who went to Scotland on a fishing trip, trying to get some rest after a period of strain and work practically unbroken since he went to see Chancellor Hitler at Berchtesgaden last September, elected to come back to London on his own initiative.

Rodeo "Boss' Heads Home After Signing For Fair In August

Col. A. L. Gatewood, Butte, Mont., owner of one of the country's top-flight rodeo organizations, was heading back to Montana today after conferences here Friday with officials of the New Castle fair's sponsoring organization, the New Castle Agricultural association.

He discussed with Secretary-Manager A. Clyde Shoaf and other fair directors the role his "Flying X Ranch" rodeo will take in the 1939 fair in August. Shoaf said the Gatewood rodeo was here in 1932 and won the praise of crowds.

Here earlier in the week was another professional showman, B. Ward Beam of New York.

The Flying X show brings 100 wild horses never before handled, 50 head of saddle horses and wild cattle and between 40 and 50 riders. It is rated as the largest wild west show on tour.

The four day fair will be the week of August 21.

Battlers End Heavy Training

Hope To Be Free Of Injury When They Clash Here Monday

PENNSYLVANIANS TO OPPOSE OHIO BOXERS

Having attained what they term "pink of condition", fighters who hope to travel places in the "Tin Ear" industry end strenuous training today, taper off tomorrow and crawl through the ropes to exchange "socks" in eight bouts Monday night in the Arena. The Jefferson C. C. will stage the show under A. A. U. regulations.

While the top, or feature, role, will find Mickie Rubin, this city, trading wallops with Manny Amado, Youngstown's Portuguese 175-pounder, there are other bouts among the scheduled eight, equally as inviting. Practically every class, excepting the heavyweight, is represented.

Because a slight cut above an eye or a damaged hand might spell defeat, the 16 maulers planned to abandon boxing today. They plan to taper off and be free of cuts and bruises when the bell rings at 8:30 p. m., Monday.

Several Inviting Bouts
Among the more inviting clashes on the fistic docket, all of which are listed for three-round stanzas are the Frankie Moran, this city vs. Frankie Stovich, Youngstown, 126 pound meeting and the Chuck Arnett, West Pittsburg vs. Mickie McCoy, Youngstown, 135 pound embroglio.

Billy Reale of Princeton, one of Lawrence county's popular amateurs, who took time out recently because of an injured hand, will take on Tommy Pipher of Youngstown, Hal Brooks, a colored lad from Moravia street, is scheduled to exchange wallops with Harold Patterson of Youngstown.

Other bouts to be fought are: Babe Retardo, Ellwood City vs. Mickie O'Day, Youngstown; 112 pounds.

Buck Chambers, West Pittsburg vs. Chuck Swatvik, New Castle, 165 pounds.
Johnny Kovach, Youngstown vs. Larry Regan, Butler, 160 pounds.
The boys will take a walk tomorrow to prevent muscles from cramping. Following this, light exercise, they will rest until summoned 8:30 p. m., Monday to enter the Arena ring.

Two New Teams Join Golf League

Indications Point To Record Season For Sylvan Heights Golf League

Two new teams were admitted to the Sylvan Heights Golf League, formerly the New Castle Golf League, at the meeting of the league directors in the Sylvan Heights Clubhouse last evening, assuring of one of the fastest leagues in the history of the association.

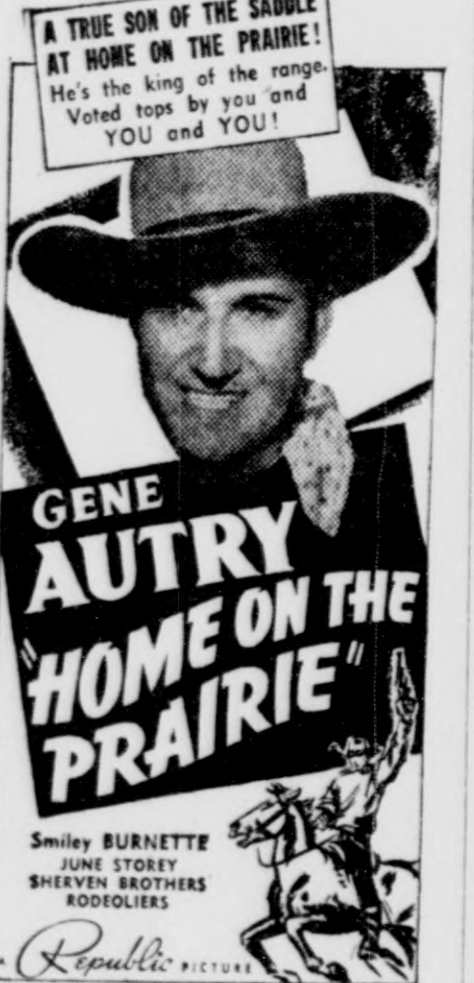

The new teams are Shelby Social Club of Ellwood City, and Bab's Tin Shop, led by Frank Bab's, one of the city's leading golfers.

The league season will start on Friday evening, May 5, and plans were outlined at the meeting last evening for a big get-together prior to the opening of the league, which will probably take the form of a fish fry, with a program of entertainment.

Rules to govern the play during the league season were adopted, and final plans made for the get-away.

Klendale Hubbell, a setter, captured the national grouse title Friday to give his owner, Judge H. R. Hyde, of Ridgeway, Pa., permanent possession of the trophy. It was the first time the cup had been won permanently since 1933. The judge's Momeny's Count Boaz took the championship in 1923 and Glendale Sir Ross, in 1933. In addition he won a cash prize. The meet was in Oil City. Other winners in the meet held by the Pennsylvania Field Trial club resulted in Coxcomb Queen, owned by Herbert Kerr of New Castle, winning second place in the Junior all-age trials and in the Puppy stakes, Wally Gallant, owned by Dr. L. A. Sygant, took second place.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Local sport shorts.... "Lindy"

Lauro, New Castle high's swash-buckling fullback, contemplates attending the University of Michigan. Lauro was also on the varsity basketball team. Socrates Roussos, the lanky south sider, who ripped holes for the Red Hurricane backs during the past few seasons will attend the University of Kentucky, according to Lauro. These schools get a pair of unusually talented gridgers. Princeton's hard hitting Billy Reale, who was forced away from the ring was due to a broken hand, suffered in a mitt clash sometime ago, makes his initial appearance since the mishap in Monday's star-studded show. "Dutch" Updegraff, former New Castle High center, is one of the leading pitchers in the city. Paul Morrison, who ranks as one of the crack local cage stars, also has plenty of stuff on the horsehide. West players will see action with the Best Side Tigers this season.

Note: This is the fifteenth of a series of articles dealing with prospects of major league baseball teams. St. Louis Cardinals—Baseball's most colorful outfit, five years ago, known as the Gas House Gang, has been shaken up, leaving only Joe Medwick, Pepper Martin and Paul Dean to carry on. With these three performers serving as the nucleus, Raymond Blades, new leader of the St. Louis Cardinals, feels confident that he can revive the Red Birds of old, a team which bragged about what it could do and then set out and did it in a manner that won public acclaim. In molding together an aggregation such as the old Gas House Gang, Pilot Blades has to plug a rather large opening in the middle of the infield and must pray that his pitching staff holds up. Aside from this, Blades has nothing to worry about....

Paul Dean, who teamed up with his brother Dizzy and gave St. Louis fans a pennant winner as well as the worlds championship is an important factor. He showed old time form during the latter stages of the 38 season, after enjoying some of that Texas sunshine, thus leading critics to believe that he will be the Paul of 1934. Lon Warneke, Curt Davis, Bob Weiland and Clyde Shoun, all veterans, are the leading flingers, along with Dean. Bill McGee, Max Macon, Bob Bowman, an unusually talented rookie, Tom Sun-ikel, mound kind from the Southern Association, Mort Cooper, Texas strikeout wizard, and Ken Raffensberger round out the casting department. From this array, Blades hopes to select a staff to stop the onrushes of the Reds, Pittsburgh, Giants and Cubs. If anybody is capable of building up a gang of hustling pitchers, Blades is the man. He is a first hander of youngsters being blessed with an abundance of patience....

Another major worry is second and short. At first, the slugging Johnny Mize, who ended up with a 337 mark is a cinch to keep his seat. Don Guttridge proved that he is the man for the third and there isn't anybody around who can take his place. Shortstop is wide open with Jimmy Brown having the edge, that is if his wing is O. K. Brown has been suffering with a sore arm. Joe Oringo, a tall San Franciscan, may bob up with the position. His play has been spectacular. Lynn Meyers, Frank Crespi, and Martin Marion are other candidates, all capable men. Stu Martin stems thru at second. Maurice Sturdy, a 299 clubber with Rochester last year, has the inside. The Cards outfield can match anything in the loop. Joe Medwick ranked as one of the outstanding players in the majors, goes to left. Terry Moore, in centerfield and Enos Slaughter in right, complete the trio. Pepper Martin is billed as a utility man....

There's punch galor in the outer garden. Mickey Owen and Don Padgett will share the catching berth, aided by newcomers Herman Frank or Sam Narron. Blade's 1939 Cards are loaded with speed and punch. If he can catch up the middle of the infield and get steady pitching the Gas House Gang may come back. The reason I say steady pitching is that these Cards will get plenty of runs....

Thomas Wins For New Castle Rifle Team In Match

Members Will Meet Monday To Discuss Plans For Annual Banquet

Wilbur Thomas saved the day for the New Castle Rifle Club last night at the Cathedral range by coolly shooting a string of 191 that gave the locals a 948 to 944 victory over the Niles, Ohio Rifle team in a Penn-Ohio league match.

The New Castle team was one point behind when Thomas got to the range and he was the last man on the team to shoot. He had to score a 188 to tie or a 189 to win for New Castle and proceeded unperturbed to bag out his 191. High man for the match was Baskett of Niles with a 194 string, while Milnes had a 193 for New Castle.

There will be an important meeting of the club members at the range Monday night for a discussion of the coming annual banquet. All members are asked to try and be at the meeting if possible.

The results—New Castle: Milnes 193, Thomas 191, Finley 189, Hunter 189, Watson 186—Total 948.

Niles: Baskett 194, Potter 188, Welsh 188, Kagrise 187, Morton 187—Total 944.

Other scores—New Castle: Pander 182, Houck 183, McKeown 179, Gardner 184, Kilbreath 184, Douglas 172, E. McBride 177, Hockenberry 186, Cooper 180, Hill 186, Jesse Moore 184, Ruby Moore 180, Johns 186, Weatherby 182, Horton 184, Schweinsberg 185, H. Allen 178, J. Allen 165.

Niles: Summers 157, Reese 184, Corbett 181, White 183, Lightner 175, Hoffman 182.

Report Refugees Are Victimized

Spurious U. S. Money Has Been Sold To Refugees Abroad It Is Reported

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The American secret service, cooperating with foreign governments, is investigating several European counterfeiting groups that have been mulcting large sums of money from Jewish refugees.

Secret service officials revealed today that a number of counterfeit bills have been presented to New York banks by refugees upon their arrival in the United States.

Spurious American currency originating from Czechoslovakia and Austria also is reported to have turned up in South America.

According to information received at the treasury, bootleg foreign exchange operators in European capitals are selling American counterfeit currency to Jews and political figures who are fleeing the German-dominated areas.

The refugees are prevented under German regulations, from carrying with them all their money. For this reason, there is much smuggling of gold and other money.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL.

Here it is the day before Easter and we are all hoping . . . that is a great many young ladies are hoping that tomorrow will be a bright day. A day when they can sport their new clothes . . .
those fancy hats, and things they call hats and some of the men have their doubts. And to think that five, six, seven and even ten dollars of good American money is spent for shoes without any toes.
Can you beat that? . . . if a woman had to wear shoes without any toes . . . then the men would soon hear about their plight.

As the women enter church tomorrow the gossip will start. Look at that hat on Mrs. So and So . . . bet she made that one over from last year and where did Mrs. Fatback get that coat . . . my my, doesn't that new Mrs. Honeymoon look stunning, until she has been married a few years. On and on the talk will go . . . but we are told that is what makes life worth living for . . . although we can't see it.

All sorts of requests come to our desk . . . here is one that is rather interesting and we thought maybe some one could help us on the answer. A woman of New Castle wrote in and wanted to know where she could purchase a rope for her bathrobe. A fancy colored
one. Now you folks who get around or my merchants . . . is there such a thing sold separately? We would appreciate your answers.

Easter Market
Quite Orderly

High Speed Ticker Is Late
Today, Fairly Heavy
Volume Of Trading

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 8.—The stock market here today broke to new lows in fairly heavy volume on the Italian conquest of Albania. Prices were $1 to $2 a share under the previous closing. The high speed ticker was late. The market was orderly. The New York market is the only one opened in the world today, all the European boards being closed for a three and four-day Easter holiday. New York was closed yesterday for Good Friday. The London market will not reopen until Tuesday. There were several large blocks of stocks in the opening trades, but mostly in the cheaper issues. There were 3,000 radio and 4,400 Aviation Corp. Both off only a few cents. U. S. Steel was a little late in opening, being down $1.75. Bethlehem Steel was off $1.87. Some of the other losses were: Chrysler on a block of 3,000 off $1.87; U. S. Rubber, down $1.25; Union Carbide, $1; Douglas Aircraft $1.50; Owens Illinois Glass, $1; Atchison, $1.37; Briggs $1.62; and Du Pont $2.50. Bonds also were lower.

Some Strange Sights
For Easter Parade

By WALTER KIERNAN

Correspondent
NEW YORK, April 8.—Dangling petticoats will feature the Easter parade on Fifth avenue tomorrow. The dangling or drooping petticoat is the stylist's latest contribution to a troubled world and males will spend Sunday alternately wondering whether Europe's peace or their female companion's petticoat will fall down first.
A man with drooping pants is a sorry sight, but the stylists have given their word that a woman with a dangling petticoat is a very pretty picture indeed, and you will just have to take their word for it.
Peticoats also are called slips, but this is the first time in many years that they have slipped so far. Inverted flower pot hats are in favor for the Easter parade. With a handle they can be used to carry a picnic lunch for four if anybody feels like picnicking. The other style of hat most favored is mostly bird like a grounded plane, and its wings are raised as if to take off with the mails.
They are what might be termed novel hats in a silly sort of a way. There also will be in the Easter parade a lady wearing a skim milk dress. She is an Italian lady and dresses made of skim milk or canned milk are becoming very popular in Italy.
Any man who has a cow patch of canna reeds in his back yard can dress his wife in a style to which she had better become accustomed in Italy.

American clothes this Easter, as in years past, will come from the goat, or head of the family, a harmless sort of domestic creature who has a long bill on May 1 and 15 days to pay it.
American women do not have to fool around with skim milk and canna reed fabrics while the goat walks. He may beat a little bit, but his heat is worse than his plight.
There will be a lot of frilly stuff around this year in what are known as "little girl" fashions. The little girls will not be caught dead in these costumes, but a lot of big girls who give their ages as "over 16" with their fingers crossed are going for them.
The "little girl" costumes feature puffed sleeves, jabots, short, full skirts and extreme optimism on the part of the wearers. They know they are not little girls, but they hope they will be suspected.
The shirtwaist and skirt is back, but shirtwaists are now blouses. Men's trousers will break about a half inch over the instep this year. Some of them also will break on the seams owing to long and faithful service. But they will be in the Easter parade—you can't go in a barrel.

Soil Conserving
Loans Available

Additional Funds Made Available For Materials To Further Soil Building

Farmers unable to participate in the 1939 A. A. soil conservation program because of lack of funds for material to carry out soil building practices, may now obtain Farm Security Administration loans for this purpose through the local A. A. committee. David E. Service, FSA's county supervisor, announced today.
"The entire amount of the loan must be used for alfalfa or clover seed, lime, fertilizer or other seeds or supplies which will be needed in carrying out approved soil building practices," Mr. Service stated. Amounts up to 85 per cent and in some cases 100 per cent of the approved A. A. payment can be loaned, and will be secured by an assignment of that payment," he said.
In order to be eligible for these FSA loans, an applicant must be recommended by the A. A. county committee and unable to secure the necessary bank credit elsewhere, Mr. Service added.
This is in line with the Farm Security Administration's policy of making loans only to farmers unable to secure financial aid from any other source. The borrower who can get the financing which he needs from his bank or other credit agency is not eligible for FSA loans, the supervisor said.
All applications for loans must be made at the Lawrence county A. A. office, 427 Court street, New Castle, Pa.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Letters intended for this column must be signed with name and address of writer.

To the Editor of The New Castle News:
Dear Friend:
May I have the courtesy of space in The News to thank you and those associated with you for your generous co-operation with the Committee of the New Castle Ministerial association in charge of the services during Holy Week and on Good Friday. We appreciate all you have done for us.
I would express heartfelt gratitude to the people of New Castle, far exceeding expectations. This is the kind of fellowship we like to have in our city.
It is a pleasure to thank the pastors, official boards and sextons of the First Baptist church, the First Disciples church, the Mahoning M. E. church and St. Andrews, the officials of Trinity church for the use of their church buildings, as well as all of the musicians who contributed so much to the beauty and inspiration of the services.
May I say what a joy it has been to receive perfect cooperation from all of the clergy.
The many grateful comments from the people of the city, the growing number observing Holy Week and Good Friday, show we are working along right lines and that we shall accomplish more of our objectives next year.
Again thanking you,
Faithfully yours,
PHILIP C. PEARSON,
General Chairman.

Medical Body Hears Dr. T. O. Elterich

Pittsburgher Guest Speaker; Hospital Staff Member Leaving

Members of the Lawrence County Medical society heard a Pittsburgh doctor, Dr. Theodore O. Elterich, speak on "Glandular Conditions Affecting Children" at their regular April meeting in The Castleton on Thursday night. He was introduced by the society's president, Dr. F. D. Campbell of Bessemer.

The society in its business session formally approved the membership transfer of Dr. William T. Rice, resident physician of Jameson Memorial hospital for some time, to a society in South Carolina.

Dr. Rice has resigned, effective May 1, to take a position on the staff of Roper hospital in Charleston, S. C. As yet no successor has been named, it is understood.

The society also approved the membership transfer of Dr. Charles Nader of the local organization to the Westmoreland county society. He has taken up practice in New Kensington. Another transfer approved was that of Dr. D. O. Schell, now in Ellwood City, who comes to the Lawrence county society from the Butler county society.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

One out of every 14 Pennsylvanians is in a hospital last year. The average stay in hospitals was 12 1/2 days.

There are 3-13 hospital beds for every 1,000 Pennsylvanians. Yet these beds were only 71 per cent occupied.

Pennsylvania has 352 hospitals with 86,633 beds.

There are 227 general hospitals, 44 mental institutions.

Also, 17 for tuberculosis and 10 maternity hospitals.

There are five children's, 18 orthopedic and six isolation hospitals.

Last year 721,443 Pennsylvanians were in hospitals.

That's a lot of sick and injured. But there are also facilities for most of them.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Paris news of Easteride is that women's fashions are running to bold splashes of color and to South Sea Island effects. Gauvain influence is noted, with a trend toward full-flowered dresses and coats, suggestive of the Mother Hubbards which the missionaries put over on the islanders. There is a bold outbreak of vivid greens, hard blues and saffron and mimosa yellow.

That sounds like "flinging the winter garments of repentance into the fires of Spring," and we might let it go at that—not minding a dash of color here and there—but other reports are challenging and contradictory.

Careful analysis of the latest hints from Paris indicate that Molyneux is all for boleros, fichus and ruffles, and other such fixings, and that his offerings would indicate that the stylish girls will be "prettified" rather than exotic. Chanel is pioneering new gypsy models. Mainbocher has gone back to the Graustark period, fashioning boldly the costumes of the princesses and peasants of Ruritania. Schiaparelli is sedately romantic, with quaint and impeccable "flower garden" motifs.

A year ago, Will H. Hays, ringmaster of the films was worrying about the movies turning toward "escapism." This convenient two-dollar word also has been applied to the prevailing tendency of the style designers. They turn to romantic and, presumably, happier times and places, to a Graustarkian kingdom or a fragrant South Sea archipelago for their inspiration—anywhere but here and now.

They are good, psychologists, these style mentors, and unquestionably they catch the pulse of a popular trend. Anything to be reminded that there are places in the world where concentration camps are not needed and the goose-step is practiced only by the fowl from which it takes its name.

From our customary stance on the sidelines, this leap in fancy to lands of old enchantment is all to the good. I believe there is abundant authority for the assertion that many neuroses and incipient devilities in young people have been cured by making possible a wider range of choice. I am for the style riggers and their annual vernal shake-up.

One doesn't have to read Sartre Resistant to know that you begin to feel like somebody if you look like somebody. There is a good deal of truth in the saying that the clothes make the man, and most certainly the woman—especially if she has found just the right hat. Assign to the clothes industry all the sordid commercial motives you please, but the fact is that a man is bucked up for a new smash at the line just by stepping out in a snappy new suit—preferably one that costumes him as a captain of industry, a devil with the ladies, or whatever he aspires to be. Much has been written, and soundly, too, on the personality fulfillment of clothes.

There comes to hand a translation of an article in a Paris newspaper, in which the backward, romantic trend of the new women's styles is interpreted as in some way a derivative of the Continental drift back into feudal government. That sounds pretty far-fetched in this corner. There are ample reasons to account for it, but without concluding that they are beginning unconsciously to dress the roles of courtiers, princesses and peasants.

In the first place, modern machine techniques and materials have made possible a variety and a daring in styling undreamed of a few years ago. Both men and women always have aspired to individuality in dress. Indulgence of this desire obviously requires a much larger wardrobe and it is only in recent years that this has been within the price range of people of modern means.

Great-Aunt Hetty might have had three or four severely modeled dresses, made of good imported "stuff" at a cost of $30 or $40 each. One can fancy her amazement if she could now go through some of the moderate price stores and see what she could get with the same amount of money. And a trip along Main street would reveal to her a miracle of mass production and distribution in bright, varied, pretty and becoming dresses for girls who earn their living. Easter week is a deserved triumph for the dress industry.

And Easter week brings up a problem of diplomacy in the Philippines. They can't get pants on the Igorotes. They'll wear coats, shirts, shoes, stockings, high hats—anything but pants. It harks back to the experience of the Rev. Ezra Burnham, an American missionary on the Island of Rarotonga in the South Seas.

He also found the natives stubborn about wearing pants. He pleaded with them and preached to them fervently, but they couldn't seem to get the idea. Finally, wishing to meet the reverend gentleman half way, the natives tattooed on their persons precise and minutely detailed patterns of pants. He let it go at that and for a long time to native was properly and formally dressed unless he was thus tattooed.

It was their concession to our tribal magic—and of course there is a great tribal magic in all our clothes pre-occupations. It is close to earth and goes far back into the dimmest recesses of time, before written history began, when old men told tales around the campfires as a finger-drum steadily thumped accompaniment.

GIVES CANAL IDEAS

April 6, 1939.
Editor of The News,
New Castle, Pa.
Dear Sir:

Following is a letter regarding the proposed canal which I would like to see printed in your paper if you deem it would have sufficient interest to your readers.

Sauls opposition to canal misleading citizens of New Castle.

Having spent about ten years as brakeman and conductor on the Pennsylvania railroad and having some knowledge of the number of men working on the railroad and living in New Castle at the present time I feel that Mr. W. T. Saul is making "too big a boo" to our city council.

I think if the figures were made public that Mr. Saul in his capacity of Chairman of the order of railroad conductors represents less than 100 men, that is railroad conductors living in New Castle who are at the present time drawing more than $125 per month. The only railroad men that are drawing a living wage at the present time are a few of the old timers that hold regular runs. If these few men are the ones that Mr. Saul represents let him say so. If he represents the railroads let him say so. Let's fly under true colors.

We all know of railroad men that have been on the road many years and do not hold regular jobs that make no more than the stevedores and common labor Mr. Saul speaks of.

I personally know of one that has been a brakeman and conductor for more than 18 years who is getting a day now and then. His wife God bless her, works out to help support the family.

Now Mr. Saul, let's have some facts and figures. They will be available to you. How many men do you represent in your capacity of chairman of the order of railway conductors who are living in New Castle to day working on the railroad and drawing more than $125.00 per month. I set this limit because you would have our city council believe you represent a vast multitude of highly paid workmen who are going on relief if the canal goes through. Let's take the last twelve months as an average. Also tell us the average years of service of these men. Tell us if these few men are the ones for whom you ask the citizens of New Castle to give up their canal project or are you speaking for the railroad companies. Tell us how many tons of ore the Pennsylvania hauls from Ashtabula harbor to Conaway with five men on the crew. Tell us how many tons of coal they haul from Conaway to Ashtabula harbor with these same five men.

If our city of New Castle is to go forward it is time we thought of the city as a whole not from a standpoint of a small minority who would stampee the people and our public officers in their own selfish interests. Let's get all the facts. If this canal is good for New Castle, this want it. If it isn't we don't. I don't

Arraign Three Before Alderman

Two Plead Guilty To Thefts Of Auto Parts—Third Man To Receive Hearing

George Rich, 21, of 420 Blunston avenue and Alfred Burgo, 19, of 488 East Washington street, pleaded guilty to charges of larceny; and Edward Mariacher, 35, of 1319 Pennsylvania avenue, pleaded not guilty to a charge of receiving stolen goods when arraigned before Alderman Claude Mantz, Thursday.

The former two were sent to the county jail in default of bail to await sentence. Mariacher gave bail for a hearing before the alderman next Wednesday.

The informations against the three were sworn to by Chief of Police Ralph A. Criswell.

The charges developed from the reported theft of wheels and tires from automobiles by Rich and Burgo and the alleged disposal of them by Mariacher.
